

Air1 is a wonderful station. Recently our other positive station was change to a "less than positive" station, so now this is the only station that I can listen to. If Air1 were to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster providing other programming this community would have to stop listening to radio stations all together. Air1 provides us with positive music and information instead of all "trash" that is out in the world today. Please do not displace Air1. I am so thankful I have something positive to listen to each day.
